| Do you remember life before the internet?

Ofcourse i can... We only have normal text messages per day 100... Used browser (a customized place where computers available with internet)... For watching movies pendrive, CD castes were used and for file transfer Bluetooth was the one of the family tool which takes nearly a hour to transfer the file...for 1 gb used to buy small token card which contains number to recharge cost 5rs...

In those days without internet we know nothing... This days we can know everything through internet still we know nothing...

Prompt...
